ARTICLES

Göran Therborn The World and the Left

In a landmark analysis, Göran Therborn contextualizes the myriad new lefts that have emerged across the globe since the turn of the millennium.

Frigga Haug Memories of Learning

From primary school to women's liberation, reflections on learning as struggle and teaching as a way of opening paths through the world.

Forrest Hylton & Aaron Tauss Colombia at the Crossroads

The victory of Gustavo Petro is a historic breakthrough in a country where independent popular forces have been systematically excluded from formal political representation for two centuries. What lies ahead?

Edward King The World Historical Novel

Joseph Conrad's Nostromo as inaugural reconfiguration of the historical novel, most political of literary forms, in which the world-system of capital rather than the nation state emerges as point of reference.
